PREFATORY NOTE

This index undertakes to deal only with the printed reports of administrative officers, legislative committees, and special commissions of the states and with governors' messages for the period since 1809. It does not refer to constitutions, laws, legislative proceedings or court decisions, except in so far as they happen to be found in the class of documents above mentioned. It attempts, on the other hand, to furnish a list, as complete as possible, of all the documents and messages which fall within its scope, in whatever form they may have been published, whether separately, in collected documents, legislative journals or volumes of laws, and to indicate the volume in which they may be found. In general, unless otherwise shown, the material indexed is in the New York Public Library. In addition to furnishing a list of reports and messages, the index undertakes to supply a reference by volume and page to all material of economic importance which they contain, with the exception of that contained in the reports of bureaus of labor. The reason for this exception is that these reports have already been indexed by Carroll D. Wright, late United States Commissioner of Labor,[1] in a volume published by his department in 1902.

Although the index is confined to matter of economic bearing, the term " economic " has been given a broad interpretation. In view of this liberal interpretation it is believed that the index will constitute a useful addition to the resources of students of almost any aspect of American history.

It will be seen that the present index differs both in scope and character from R. R. Bowker's " State Publications," the valuable pioneer work in this field. It is narrower in scope than " State Publications," which aims to present a list not only of reports and governors' messages but of all state documents; but in the field which the present work covers it contains not only a more complete list of documents than has hitherto been published but also an index of their contents in so far as these have an economic bearing.

The arrangement is alphabetical by topics. The references under each topic are divided into two groups, viz., " serial " and " non-serial." Within each of these divisions the arrangement is chronological. Numerous cross-references will, it is hoped, make it possible to discover with little difficulty all the material bearing on a topic. It is to be remarked that the division of serial reports into more than one series occurs whenever there is a change in title, in the authority making the report or in frequency of issue. It will be seen that this division is not an arbitrary one. It is made in the belief that the reason for it can be more clearly shown in this way than by a narrative explanation.

Uniform entry words for subjects recurring in different states will be retained throughout the series. It will thus be possible to make a study not only of the historical development of an economic subject as reflected in the documents of an individual state but also to make a comparative study of that development as it has taken place in the country at large. To accomplish this purpose it has been necessary to make the selection of entry words without reference to the peculiarities of local usage, such peculiarities being recognized in the case of each state by cross-references. The abbreviations employed are believed to be sufficiently obvious to make a table of them unnecessary. Unless otherwise stated the size of the books is octavo.

A feature introduced in the New York part of this index, and not employed in the preceding parts (i. e. Maine, New Hampshire, and Vermont), is the system of references from locality. This feature has been made a part of the succeeding issues.

The present volume follows the preceding volumes in form, except that perhaps a little more space has been given to checklist entries. It seemed necessary to do this, because of the fact that, in Illinois, most of the early volumes of the Collected Documents were issued with duplicate paging; i. e., one for the volume and one for each document in the volume. The result was that from about 1840 to 1877 there exist two editions of many Illinois documents. The most concise way of recording each edition proved to be the one adopted, i. e. by collating each in checklist form. Another reason was the fact of the discontinuance of the Collected Documents of Illinois in 1897. This cessation made a checklist of subsequent separate, or department, serials absolutely necessary, and, on the whole, it was thought best to collate the entire set of serials, and have the record complete.

The present volume has been preceded by seven similar volumes, devoted to the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, New York, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, and California, respectively. It will be followed by others, each devoted to a single state. The work when completed will, therefore, furnish an index to the economic material in the reports and governors' messages of all the states of the Union.

In the preparation of this volume the collection of the New York Public Library has been used as a basis. The collections of the Library of Congress, the Illinois State Library, the Illinois State Historical Library and the Chicago Historical Society have also been examined. Acknowledgment is made for courtesies extended by each of these institutions in the course of the compilation of the present volume.

A legislative manual has been published with more or less regularity at least since 1870. Sabin (no. 34,292) lists a manual of the House for 1832-1833. COLLECTED DOCUMENTS

Territory of Illinois*

1809-1818

Established by act of Congress of Feb. 3, 1809, which provided as follows: "That from and after the first day of March next, all that part of the Indiana Territory which lies west of the Wabash river and a direct line drawn from the said Wabash river and Post Vincennes due north, to the territorial line between the United States and Canada, shall, for the purpose of temporary government, constitute a separate territory, and be called "Illinois."

GOVERNMENT UNDER FIRST GRADE

1809-1812

During this period the governor and judges, who received their appointments from the President of the United States, constituted the legislative council, and enacted the laws for the government of the people. This form of government continued until 1812, when, by a vote of the people, the second grade was adopted. The executive officers during this time were the secretary of state, the attorney general and the adjutant general.

No part of the proceedings of the Legislative Council, of this period, has been printed. The laws of the territory from 1809 to 1811 were printed in June, 1906, by the Illinois State Historical

* Although antedating the organization of the territory, it may not be out of place to call attention here to the recent recovery in the Circuit Clerk's Office, at Chester, Ill., of what are termed the "Kaskaskia Records." These records comprise judicial and notarial documents, papers of registry offices, etc., covering the period from 1720 to 1790. They were found by Prof. Alvord of the University of Chicago, and are described in Publication no. 11 of the Historical Library of Illinois (1906), pp. 27-31.

Library in its Bulletin (vol. 1, no. 2, 34 pp.). The Executive register of the territory (1809-1818) has also been printed by the State Historical Library. For a collation of the latter, see under Governor in part 2, of this index.

GOVERNMENT UNDER SECOND GRADE

1812-1818

Under this form of government there was a legislature, composed of a legislative council (upper house) and house of representatives (lower house), elected by the people. The executive officers during this time were the secretary of state, auditor of public accounts, attorney general, treasurer and the adjutant general.

Crop Bulletins

serial

1 series

[1871-1877. Circulars, nos. 1-24.]

This entry is entirely suppositious. Although a very special effort was made to complete the collation of these circulars, none was found earlier than that numbered 25. The three entries in Bowker (pt. 2 : 234) viz.: Annual crop report, 1873-1901, Circulars no. 1-122, 1881-1902, and Statistical Report Dec. 1888-Dec. 1901, are all variations of titles of the same serial, i. e., the one collated below as series 2 and 3 resp. As collated here the notation and changes of title are self-indicating.

The compiler's assumption concerning no. 1-24 is as follows: When the act of 1877, authorizing the compilation of agricultural statistics, went into effect, the then authorities applied an initial number which they supposed would allow for such earlier fugitive publications of the predecessor of the dept. of agriculture, as might have been published, but of which they had neither record nor examples.

2 series

1877-1885

Under Act of May 25, 1877, to secure the collection and publication of agricultural statistics. The following collation was made from the collection of crop bulletins in the New York Public Library, the Library of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and that of the Illinois Department of Agriculture. It will be noted that a great many numbers are cited as "not found." The regularity with which these numbers recur, and the fact that after diligent search and inquiry no corresponding circulars were found, suggests the explanation that the numbers were left open pending the assignment to them of occasional publications. Only one such publication, see no. 43, was found. During this time an edition of 3000 copies of these bulletins was printed.

ILLINOIS STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY: DISTRICT REPORTS

1 series

1864-1868

Congressional districts adopted by Horticultural Society for local work.

Under the constitution of 1856, providing that vice-presidents shall be chosen, one from each congressional district, and who shall be, ex-officio, the executive committee of the society. The amendments made from time to time, before 1870, did not affect this provision. The by-laws of 1864 provided that the vice-presidents "shall endeavor to organize local societies, obtain accurate information of the condition and progress of horticulture therein, and report annually, in writing, to the Society." The final direction seems to have been but irregularly observed, as is shown by the following collation.

The Act of March 24, 1874, re-organizing the Ill. State Horticultural Society, conflicted with the former custom of the election, by the State Hortic. Socy., of one member to represent resp. the seven horticultural districts of the state. As it was deemed desirable to continue the publication of district reports the Executive Board decided (Trans. Ill. State Hortic. Socy. n. s. v. 8 : 173) to appoint one person in each of the seven horticultural subdivisions, the same to constitute a General Committee on Horticulture. In 1882 the Executive Board (Trans. Ill. State Hortic. Socy. n. s. v. 16 : 220) decided to omit the General Committee the following year. It seems never to have been reappointed.

Bank Commissioners

Under act of Feb. 15, 1851, "Act to establish a general system of banking." This act became law over the executive veto. Sec. 31 provided for the appointment, by the governor, of three bank commissioners at the session of the general assembly following the one which passed the act. The next session convened in 1853. The requirement of the act concerning the making of reports (sec. 31) is rather indefinite. It is worded as follows: "Such commissioners shall have power to examine . . . . and their reports shall be published at the seat of government, and such other papers as they may direct."

It will be seen that only two issues of this statement were found as separates. These were found as insets resp. in the auditor's reports, the 1856 issue in the Auditor's copy of the auditor's report for 1854/6 and the 1858 issue in the State Library's copy of the auditor's report for 1856/8. The compiler does not venture an opinion as to what would constitute a continuous file of these statements. That earlier and later statements were compiled is proved by the aggregates which appear in the Annual Statement on the Condition of State Banks, submitted to Congress by the Secretary of the Treasury under House resolution of July 10, 1832. A collation of these follows:

3 series

1889-1896

Under "Act concerning corporations with banking powers" approved June 16, 1887, and operative Dec. 6, 1888. The record of the following two series was made up from the files of the Illinois state auditor and the N. Y. Public Library. The dates of the statements were checked up from the auditor's books, so that, although not all the statements were found, it is believed that the record of the calls for them is complete.

4 series

1897-1904

There is no change of title in these two series. The change is in the form of the book and in the presentation of the material. Heretofore the series was issued in an oblong 8° pamphlet of unnumbered sheets. The material in the earlier series was arranged in two main groups, viz., resources and liabilities, each group being divided into various sub-headings and the banks of the state arranged alphabetically under each group. In the later series the arrangement is by banks only with classified detailed tables under each, and a table of aggregates.

BANKS: INDIVIDUAL

In cases of banks where there has been more or less controversy, it was thought to be useful to arrange the entries by year, month and day, thus preserving the record in the order of its occurrence. In the case of communications transmitting a large no. of enclosures not appearing elsewhere, a brief calendar of these enclosures has been made (see below under State Bank of Illinois).

Bank of Edwardsville

Although none of the following are Illinois state docs. it was thought perhaps useful to include them here as relating to banking in Illinois, and as being the only documents on the Edwards-Crawford controversy.

* This statement does not necessarily mean that no returns were published. The file of the State Register used by the compiler is that belonging to the Illinois Historical Library in Springfield. It is the most complete file of this paper, more complete than the office file, which begins in 1862. There are, however, breaks here and there in the Historical Library file, and it is possible that some of these missing returns may be accounted for in that way. It is also very possible that a statement may have been overlooked by the compiler.

Under Bank Commissioner

Act to diminish the state debt and put the State Bank in liquidation, approved Jan. 24, 1843.
The first section of this act provided for the apptmt. of a comr., under bond, with power to superintend the proceedings of the bank and to act as Director on the part of the state.
The second section required the bank to go into immediate liquidation. The bank was to be allowed the free use of its charter until March 4, 1847, to enable it to wind up its affairs. On March 1, 1847, an act was passed extending the time during which the bank was to be allowed the use of its charter to Nov. 1, 1848. The act also provided that in case its affairs were not closed up before that time, the Governor should appoint three trustees to take charge of all assets and wind up the affairs of the bank.

CANALS: INDIVIDUAL

Illinois and Michigan Canal

Because of the controversy involved at the time as well as because of the fact that this subject is still a live one in Illinois, it was thought useful to be a little more than usually explicit in the entries. They have, therefore, been arranged by year, month and day during the period of the commissionership and the trusteeship, resp. In this way the record is preserved in the order of its occurrence. Whenever there were a number of enclosures not indicated in the title of the document, a brief calendar of them has been subjoined. The names of officials have been given as an aid in indicating the administration of canal affairs.

CANAL COMMISSIONERS

On March 30, 1822, Congress passed an act (Stat. L. v. 3 : 659) granting to Illinois right of way through the public lands for the route of a canal to connect the Illinois River with the southern bend of Lake Michigan. At the session of the Illinois legislature following the passage of the federal act, Illinois enacted the law of Feb. 14, 1823, providing for the internal navigation of the state. Under this act canal comrs. were appointed and an apprn. of $2011.31 was included in the general apprn. act of 1825/6, to cover the expenditures of the canal comrs.

GOVERNOR: Edward Coles.
COMMISSIONERS: Emanuel West, Erastus Brown, Theophilus A. Smith, Thomas Sloo, Jr., Samuel Alexander.
ENGINEERS: Justus Post, Rene Paul.

1825. Rept. of the canal comrs. of the state of Ill., made to the Gen. Assem. on the third of Jan., 1825, accompanied by a map of the proposed canal; together with the law incorporating a co. to open a canal to connect the waters of Lake Michigan with those of the Illinois River. Vandalia, R. Blackwell, 1825. 26 pp., 1 map.

Map of that part of the state of Illinois through which it is contemplated to construct a canal. By J[ustus] Post and R[ene] Paul. 5¾ in. high by 10¾ in. wide, scale 10 m. = 1 in. steel engr.

Copies of rept. seen in Library of Congress and in Chicago Historical Society Library.

The map is sometimes referred to as the Post and Paul map. No other rept. was made by these comrs. This rept. is not included in the Illinois documents.

Following the rept. a company was incorporated in 1825, but its charter was repealed the following year. For the time being canal operations lapsed on the part of the state.

The controversy of 1836/7 concerned the Summit division of the canal, commonly known as " the deep cut." A history of the controversy is detailed in the chief engineer's rept. of 1842. Public attention was excited because estimates for this small portion of line, upon which there were no structures of any kind, were larger than those for balance of work. There were two reports made, one in favor and the other against the " deep cut." The former was by Mr. Thomas of the Senate, Feb. 15, 1837, and the latter by Mr. Cloud of the House, Jan. 21, 1837.

With the cessation, in Jan. 1889, of the Monthly [Ill.] Weather Review, the control and support of meteorological researches by the state also ceased. In that year meteorological observations in Illinois were transferred absolutely to the federal government. The state had had, for some years, a co-operative relation with the federal government in the production of climatic and meteorologic data. In 1881 the chief signal officer, U. S. A., then administering the national weather service, sent to the Governors of the states a circular (Ann. rept. chief signal officer 1882 : 762) recommending the organization of state weather services. Illinois, where meteorological observations had already for some years been conducted, was one of the first states to comply with the recommendations of the chief signal officer. As early as August, 1882, the then secy. of the bd. of agriculture of Ill., Mr. S. D. Fisher, was in co-operation with the U. S. signal service. This co-operation was continued by his successor, Col. Mills, to Feb. 21, 1889, when, by vote of the state bd. of agriculture, the state discontinued its maintenance of the Weather Review. From this time to 1891, the Illinois state weather service was under the management of the U. S. Signal Service. A weekly crop bulletin was issued during the growing season, 200 copies of which were distributed to newspapers throughout the state and to observers. The data used in making the bulletins was furnished by voluntary observers, reports being received from about 40 counties. A monthly report compiled from data furnished by the voluntary observers was made up and sent to Washington on the 15th of each month. In Dec., 1889, having been authorized, the sergeant in charge of the Springfield station commenced issuing a monthly cyclostyled report.

With the transfer, in 1891, of the weather bureau from the Signal Service to the Department of Agriculture, record provisions were not materially altered until 1896. On Jan. 30 of that year, the chief of the weather bureau issued instructions no. 18 (repr. in [U. S.] Monthly Weather Review 1895 : 384.) As time had gone on an undesirable diversity had developed in both methods and style of publication and in distribution of climatological data by the various state services. In order to remedy these difficulties and to bring about a more equal distribution of responsibilities the above-mentioned instructions were issued. It is under the provisions of these instructions that the present weekly and monthly reports of the climate and crop services of the various states are now issued.

Circulars of Superintendent

The following list of circulars was made up from the file in the office of the superintendent of public instruction at Springfield. Copies of some of the Inglis, Freeman and Bayliss circulars are also in the State Historical Library and in the State Library. Of the earlier series no copies, other than those in the superintendent's office, were found.

It will be seen that the circulars of each supt. carry their own numbering. For that reason the series division by supts. has been made.

Surplus Revenue Fund

Under Act of Congress of July 4, 1836, directing secy. of treasury to deposit, in four quarterly installments, with the several states in proportion to representation in Congress, whatever money might be in national treasury on Jan. 1, 1837, in excess of five million dollars. Under act of Feb. 12, 1853, the Gov. was authorized to invest the proceeds under federal act of 1836 in state bonds. See also Debt: State.

Three Per Cent Fund

Article 3, sec. 6, of the enabling act, April 18, 1818 (St. L. 3: 428) provides that 3% of the 5% fund be appropriated by the state for the encouragement of learning. With some interruptions this provision was carried out until 1846, when payment was withheld. In that year Congress passed a resolution directing that pay should not be made to states in default on bonds held by the U. S. in trust. At the following session of the state legislature, on Feb. 12, 1849, Illinois passed an act directing the Gov. to receive from comrs. of school fund the 3% fund as it was recd. from the general govt. and to invest it in state bonds at their current market value.

FISH AND GAME

serial

In his message to the 29th General Assembly the governor called the attention of the legislature to the question of fish culture and recommended some legislation for receiving, distributing and depositing the quota of eggs and fry coming to Illinois from the U. S. Fish Commission. No definite action being taken thereon, he therefore, at the request of the State Fish Culture Association appointed a special commissioner on behalf of the state to receive from the U. S. fish commissioners the proportion of fish spawn to which Illinois was entitled under act of Congress, and to hatch and distribute the same; authorizing him to dispose of a sufficient amount to defray the current expense. Only one report of this comr. covering the years 1875 and 1876 was found.

Illinois State Dairymen's Association
Organized in 1874, incorporated by act of March 5, 1883. "This is not a state institution in the sense that it is maintained by appropriations of the legislature or that its officers are appointed or its acts controlled in any way by state authority. It is a state institution, however, in the sense that it represents the dairy interests of the state . . . . There is a strong sentiment among the members to have the association made a strictly state institution." (Ill. Blue Book 1903 : 449-450.)

1 series

1881-1882

During this period coal mine inspectors were appointed by the bds. of supervisors of the different counties and they reported to the governor. According to the rept. of the committee on mines and mining made in 1873, it would appear that annual repts. of inspectors had been required as long ago as 1872. The compiler found no record of such repts.

1881-1882. Repts. of coal mine inspectors.

2 series

1884-1892

Under act of June 18, 1883, creating a state mining board. The state was divided into five inspection districts, and it was made the duty of the mining board to examine all applicants for the position of mine inspector, mine manager, etc. The inspectors were required to make annual reports. These reports have not been issued separately, and are to be found only as collated below. The collector will note that in order to have a continuous file of these inspection reports, it is necessary to have a file both of the labor reports and the coal production reports.

3 series
1893-1895

During this period the administrative conditions and the boundaries of the inspection districts remain as in series 2. The change requiring a change in the series is in the matter of publication. The inspectors' reports no longer appear alternately as heretofore in the labor and in the coal production reports, but appear in the later exclusively.

* This may have been but an error, or it may have been an intention to begin a new numbering to commence with series 1.

These stmts. show assets, liabilities, receipts, expenditures, capital and business done of each of the above named class of insurance cos.

1869-1894. List of accident, casualty and plate glass insurance cos. doing business since 1869, which have ceased to do business in state. (26 A.R. supt. insurance 1894 pt. 2: xxvi.)

From 1877-1879 no division of accident cos. is made. Returns are found with those for life cos.

In 1879 the Gen. Assembly passed an act regulating the admission and governing plate glass, accident, and steam boiler insurance cos. Under this act company stmts. were compiled as follows:

1879-1889. Plate-glass, accident and steam boiler insurance cos.; being ann. stmts. of said cos. doing business in state, showing their condition. (12 same 1880 pt. 1 (p. [353]-360)—same 1890.)

Beginning with stmts. for 1890 these returns were transferred to pt. 2 of the insurance rept. This was done with the idea of embracing in the same division of the insurance rept. all the accident business transacted in the state and of reducing the proportions to which pt. 1 of the insurance rept. had grown.

1890-1904. Plate-glass, accident, guarantee, steam boiler and live stock insurance cos.; being ann. stmts. of said cos. doing business in state, showing their condition. (23 same 1891 pt. 2 (p. [85]-115)—36 A.R. supt. insurance 1904.)

The following variations occur in these stmts.: 1890-1893 they cover plate glass, accident, guarantee, steam boiler and live stock insurance cos. 1894-1897 plate glass, steam boiler, accident, guarantee, and employers' liability.

1895-1904 as above with burglary, fidelity, and casualty cos. added.

1898-1904 as above with surety cos. added.

1891-1893. Table showing general business, business in Ill., assets, liabilities, income and disbursements of accident insurance assns. (25 same 1893 pt. 2 (p. x)—A.R. insurance supt. 1894.)

serial

A state mining bd. was created by act of June 18, 1883. The sole function of this bd. under this act was to examine and pass upon qualifications of applicants for positions of mine inspectors. Subsequent legislation enlarged the powers and duties of the bd. It now examines applicants and issues certificates for positions of mine inspector, mine examiner, mine manager and hoisting engineer. No one may hold either of these positions without a certificate from the state bd.

1893-1898. Circular. Financial record of state charitable institutions. Published by the state bd. of public charities.

One only of these circulars was seen by the compiler, viz. July-Sept. 1898. The copy seen was that belonging to the State Historical Library. Bowker records 1893/4, 1894/5-1896 and 1898, and describes these years as issued in broadsides. The compiler assumes that these issues were the precursor of the present Bulletin, but is unable to give a fixed collation of the series.

ILLINOIS CHARITABLE EYE AND EAR INFIRMARY

serial

1858/9-1871

Private Institution

A private assn. for founding and maintaining the Chicago Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary was organized by the citizens of Chicago in May, 1858. It was conducted as a dispensary only, until July, 1864, when it acquired buildings suitable for patients requiring board in the institution. In 1865, the legislature granted the infirmary a special charter, and in 1867 appropriated the sum of $5000 a year, for two years, for the support of poor patients of the state. This appropriation was renewed in 1869. Poor patients from other states could receive gratuitous treatment on payment of cost of board. Previous to this time a number of patients, especially soldiers, had been supported at the institution by the Northwestern Sanitary Commission and by the governors of Illinois, Wisconsin, and Minnesota. By the new state constitution of 1870, appropriations in aid of institutions not owned and controlled by the state having been made illegal, the Chicago Eye and Ear Infirmary was made a state institution by special act, and the name was changed to Illinois Charitable Eye and Ear Infirmary.

None of the reports of the Chicago institution falls within the scope of this index and none is included in the Collected documents.

INDUSTRIAL HOME FOR THE BLIND, CHICAGO

Incorporated by Act of June 13, 1887

"The institution is the only one of its kind in the Union. It is a charitable institution to the extent that the State makes bienn. apprns. to meet necessary deficiencies of its operations, but in view of the fact that the inmates not only maintain themselves, and many support families as well, this institution is put on a higher plane than the ordinary charities of the State." Under a provision of the Act of April 15, 1875, the trustees were required to make a biennial administrative rept. and a financial rept. for each year, separately, as well. This arrangement resulted in a double numbering. It will be noted that beginning with the rept. called the 38th annual up to the 53d annual rept., every alternate year is omitted in the numbering. This appears to be merely an eccentricity, and does not imply that repts. were issued in the intervening years. There is simply no account taken of the intervening financial statement which, however, forms part of the biennial administrative rept.

FEEBLE-MINDED

ASYLUM FOR FEEBLE-MINDED CHILDREN, AT LINCOLN

The first action taken in regard to the establishment of an institution of this kind in the state was taken by the State Medical Society in 1855. A committee from this society sent memorials in regard to an institution for idiots to the two succeeding general assemblies, but no definite action was taken until 1865. By act of Feb. 15, 1865, the legislature made an annual appropriation of $5000 and committed the charge of the institution to the directors of the Institution for the Education of the Deaf and Dumb. The school opened at Jacksonville, on May 25, 1865, and was called Institution for Idiots. Later it was called Experimental School for Idiots, and, from 1870 to 1874, Institution for the Education of Feeble-Minded Children. In 1876 the school was removed to Lincoln and the name was changed to Illinois Asylum for Feeble-Minded Children.

No rept. of this period was found, although it would appear from references in later repts. that one was made. The trustees, for instance, in submitting the rept. for the year ending June 30, 1873, say that they "herewith present their third annual rept. This is the second annual rept. since the institution was opened. . . ." It is possible that this rept. was submitted in manuscript.

ILLINOIS STATE LABORATORY OF NATURAL HISTORY

"The Ill. State Laboratory of Natural History had its origin in 1862, as the museum of the old State Natural History Society of Illinois, and was continued in that relation until 1871, when, with the practical dissolution of the Society, the museum was made over to the state. From the time of this transfer the establishment performed the functions of a state museum of natural history, as far as its limited resources would permit, until 1877, when it was converted, in accordance with the law establishing a state museum at Springfield, into a natural history laboratory. . . . ." ANNUAL REPORT—cont'd

1878-1897. Abstract of the [annual and quarterly] proceedings of the bd. of health.

Beginning in 1882 these proceedings were issued separately. They formed, from the beginning in 1878 (pp. 49-56), a part of the annual rept. of the bd. of health. It has not been thought necessary to collate a checklist of the separates.

Comprises such sections of quarterly rept. of secy. to the bd. as are of public interest.

1903-1904. Bulletin of the Ill. bd. of health, v. 1, no. 1 et seq.

CIRCULARS

The following collation was made up from the Surgeon General's Index Catalogue and from the N. Y. P. L. collection. There is no file of these circulars in the office of the Illinois State Bd. of Health. The division of these circulars into series has no other foundation than the assumption of the compiler. That a renumbering of the series took place seems obvious. Whether the years assigned for the beginning of a new numbering are correct, is uncertain.

STATE AT LARGE

"At the July, 1884, meeting of the state board of health the initiative was taken in a systematic plan of operations for a general sanitary inspection of the entire state, with the view of securing the best obtainable condition of cleanliness in order, primarily, to prevent the spread of Asiatic cholera should that disease—then assuming threatening proportions in Southern Europe—be, unfortunately, introduced into Illinois. The work was begun by a general memorandum, dated July 3, 1884, outlining the more important points requiring prompt attention, and which was sent to the authorities of some 800 cities, towns, and villages throughout the State. This was followed by a circular-order, issued through the offices of the county clerks, directing an inspection of all public buildings in charge of county commissioners or boards of supervisors, and requesting especial attention to the condition of almshouses, jails, and kindred institutions. At brief intervals similar circulars were addressed to the managers of all r.r. cos. operating in Ill., to co. supts. of schools, to health officers, and others." (7 A.R. bd. health 1884: 59.)

serial

Under the act of Feb. 27, 1837, to establish and maintain a general system of internal improvement. Sec. 4, provided for a board of comrs. of public works, composed of seven members, one from each judicial circuit, to be elected biennially by joint vote of the General Assembly, for the purpose of uniting the various branches of internal improvement under the same supervision and direction. The board was authorized to adopt measures to construct the following works: Great Wabash River Improvement, Illinois River do., Rock River do., Kaskaskia River do., Little Wabash River do., Great Western Mail Route, r.r. from Cairo to the termination of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, do. from Alton to Mt. Carmel, Northern Cross R.R., r.r. from Quincy to Indiana state line, branch of Central R.R., r.r. from Peoria to Warsaw, do. from Lower Alton to Central R.R., do. from Belleville to intersect the r.r. from Alton to Mt. Carmel. The construction of the Illinois and Michigan Canal was specifically excepted from the control of this board. The board was to meet semi-annually, at the seat of government, in June and December, and was to make to the governor semi-annual reports in June and Dec., which reports, or an outline thereof, the governor was directed to cause to be published in some newspaper printed at the seat of government. In this form these reports do not appear in the state documents. The newspaper printed at the seat of government, and which at this time held the contract for state printing, was the Illinois State Register. Such of the semi-annual reports of the board of public works as were found in the columns of this paper are collated below (see serial B).

GOVERNOR: 1834-1838, Joseph Duncan; 1838-1842, Thomas Carlin.

1837. Dec. Abstract of proceedings of the bd. of comrs. of public works. Vandalia, W. Walters, 1837. 76 pp.
This is the only one of the semi-annual repts. of which a separate issue was found. It is not found in the Collected docs. The text of the proceedings may also be found in the Illinois State Register of Dec. 29, 1837, p. 1; ib. Jan. 5 and Feb. 3, 1838. An "Abstract of the proceedings" may also be found in U. S. 25 Cong., 2 sess., Senate doc. 295: 33-105. This is very likely a duplicate of the 76-page Vandalia edition. The two documents not having been in hand simultaneously a definite stmt. is not possible.

This does not mean that these proceedings may not exist in print in the Ill. State Register. The file which was examined was that belonging to the Illinois State Historical Library. As a file this is more complete than any other one file. There are, however, numbers missing. Some of these numbers may be the ones containing this Dec. 1838 report. On the other hand it may be possible that the searcher overlooked the report.

CHICAGO SANITARY DISTRICT

serial

The Board of Trustees of the Sanitary District of Chicago was organized under Act of May 29, 1889, authorizing the creation of sanitary districts and the removal of obstructions from the Desplaines and the Illinois rivers.

The board is constituted a body politic and corporate with power to levy and collect taxes, borrow money, issue bonds, make assessments and to adopt rules for its own government and for the control of the district. The sanitary channel constructed by the board connects Lake Michigan with the Illinois River and reverses the current of the Chicago River so as to furnish an outlet for the sewage and surplus surface water of the City of Chicago. The organic act declares that this channel when completed shall be deemed a navigable stream and that, for the purpose of navigation, it shall be under the control of the general government whenever the government shall have improved the Illinois and Desplaines rivers to connect with the channel.

The Chicago Sanitary District was organized January 18, 1890. The district lies wholly within Cook County. The entire length of the channel is about 34 miles. Earth was broken for the work Sept. 3, 1892, and water was admitted to the channel from the lake Jan. 2, 1900. This is probably the greatest work ever undertaken for the sanitary betterment of a city.
